Why Oracy in Action?

Oracy in Action: University Prep bridges the gap between academic knowledge and real-world communication. It helps students refine how they think, speak, and present themselves in academic and professional settings. The programme provides a supportive yet challenging environment where learners can practise and receive feedback from expert trainers and peers. Through interactive workshops, debates, and real-life simulations, participants learn how to communicate with clarity, confidence, and purpose — skills that will serve them at university and beyond.

Benefits of the Oracy in Action Programme

The Oracy in Action: University Prep programme offers students a comprehensive foundation for academic and professional success. Its strong academic focus helps participants develop the communication, critical thinking, and presentation skills essential for university life. Through practical sessions in public speaking, students learn to perform confidently in interviews, deliver impactful presentations, and handle questions effectively — including through engaging exercises such as Dragon's Den-style pitching.

The debate and argumentation component builds structured reasoning and persuasive communication, while workshops and guest speakers introduce the language and expectations of the professional world. University visits and meetings with admissions officers provide insight into higher education pathways, and cultural activities such as punting and exploring Cambridge offer a valuable balance between academic challenge and authentic British experience.
